

We all need publicity!

A unique PR solution

Advertising and marketing has gone hi-tech. More people are searching online to find the right salon or product in their area.

We understand that most hairdressers do not have the time, knowledge or resources to embark on building a website, marketing or advertising campaign . . . yet they would love to be known and let their work be seen by the right audience.

We offer hair salons a powerful marketing opportunity. A complete and unique PR solution that gains you maximum online exposure and provides your salon with a professional, stylish and upmarket approach as well as offering you a powerful national as well as basic worldwide marketing campaign.

For a minimal annual fee we will give you your own webpage, your own gallery, a listing on our salon search, a logo link, magazine advertising as well as the inclusion in our quarterly salonPR Press Release CD distributed to both local and international publications.

SalonPR helps potential customers easily find South African hairstylists, products and services while generating extra income for you.

Find out more, click here and we will be in touch with you to discuss in more detail.